

Watch for these signs of illness in your older cat

Typically, once pets are 7 years old or older, they're considered seniors. And as your pet ages, you may start noticing some lifestyle or behavior changes that could signal a problem or need attention. If you notice any of these signs in your pet, give your veterinarian a call.

